

Sheigra DXpedition Report

16th to 28th November 2025 - with Dave Kenny & Alan Pennington

This was the 63rd DXpedition to Sheigra, the tiny coastal crofting village in Sutherland, on the far north-western tip of the Scottish mainland. And it's also forty years since the first DXpedition to Sheigra took place in October 1985, when four pioneering DXers (John Faulkner, Mark Hattam, David Hyams and Ian Kelly) first explored the potential of medium wave reception during just a week in Sheigra!

Nowadays we stay over a two-week period because of the long 650-mile drive north and the day or two it takes to put up (then take down) our aerials at the start (and end) of the DXpedition. Plus, if propagation conditions are poor, there's a chance they will improve, or at least vary!!

After a wet drive up from Caversham to our overnight stop at Perth, the next day we headed further north in sunny dry weather, though after a stop in Tomatin for lunch and in Lairg, to buy food, it was too dark to put up aerials when we arrived at Murdo's cottage. This was the latest in the year we'd been up to Sheigra since 2017 (also in late November) and the shorter daylight hours were noticeable.

The next day (Sunday) two of our Beverage aerials were wound out: 7strand/0.2mm wire on 4-5 foot garden canes. The 360° Beverage we left unterminated in the hope of some African signals off the back with the auroral conditions at the time. A herd of cattle in the paddock to the east of our cottage however, meant an Asian Beverage wasn't possible again (the cattle moved on during our second week, but too late for us). But the EWE aerial we put up in the cottage garden using two telescopic windsock poles could be easily realigned to the east. The final Beverage was put up on Monday morning before heading into the nearby fishing village of Kinlochbervie to stock up on food ahead of the forecast snow.

Just a couple of inches of snow and fine hail lay on the hillsides the next morning which melted away after three days as temperatures rose, though staying longer on the mountain peaks to the south. Our Caribbean Beverage wire suffered some breaks for two nights running, we think probably from sheep sheltering along its path from the snow and bitter strong winds.

The weather during the rest of the fortnight was unseasonably mild at times and a long trek up the peat track from Sheigra to the north coast was possible in the second week. Though walking our long aerials each day also improves fitness! At the end of the fortnight, we took down our Beverages off the high ground a day early with a forecast of 80mph winds. We are used to strong winds up there, but the wind on the night of 27th-28th was something else! With rattling slates and roof timbers and big gusts shaking the cottage walls, sleep was very patchy. The cottage survived (as it has for decades!) but the remaining Beverage and EWE did suffer some damage in the hurricane which slowly eased the next day when we took them down.

Propagation was fair for most of the fortnight with MW signals from East Coast North America fading in around 2200 and Latin American signals starting to appear an hour or so later. Morning fade-out varied between 0930 and 1030. Reception improved on 19th/20th with stations from further west audible including three "Sheigra firsts". Signals peaked further on 22nd/23rd when we enjoyed breakfast-time reception from west coast and Prairies stations in Alaska, British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta; Washington State made a brief appearance at 1100 on 24th and Florida on 26th. Notably absent this year (apart from a handful of the high-power Chinese transmitters) were stations from the Far East and South Asia which are usually well heard at Sheigra. Conditions to Asia have generally been poor this autumn/winter. But, overall, we logged a good mix of MW stations from the Americas.

On shortwave we had great reception from the three active Peruvian stations on 60 metres and Bolivia (on 3310) on several evenings.

Right: Dave fixes earth on Caribbean Beverage.

Alan's favourite catch of the fortnight, probably KUSH, Cushing, Oklahoma on 1600 with Americana music. KUSH station manager Molly Payne has already confirmed reception saying it's probably the first reception from Scotland (most reports are from Finland). Dave's favourite catch is probably: KFBX, Fairbanks, Alaska on 970 (which was last logged at Sheigra in 1999).

Alan was using an AOR AR 5001D for the first time at Sheigra (the AOR 7030 plus used since his first Sheigra visit in 1998 having died). All listening was done in real time with Mini disc recorders recording IDs. More logs may appear with re-listening to recordings!

Receivers
